

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

PSYCHOLOGY PROGRAM

PROSPECTUS

The Field

As a behavioral science, and as a distinct, but integral, part of natural science, psychology links the social and biological sciences. The major areas of psychological study focus on individual human behavior conceptualized as a natural phenomenon; studied by scientific methods, including experimentation; and understood in terms of psychological theories and laws.

Relevance

The general objectives of the Psychology Program are to increase students' understanding of themselves and others, to enhance the skills of those specializing in related areas of study, and to prepare those pursuing psychology for careers. Within the Micronesian region, in particular, those educated in psychology are able to help address critical issues including drug abuse, domestic violence, and the prevention of suicide.

Career Possibilities

Psychology graduates pursue careers in mental health and social services, child and family services, substance abuse counseling, residential care, rehabilitation, case management, and more. Many psychology majors also continue on to graduate study.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

The student learning objectives for the Psychology Program are articulated with those of the American Psychological Association. Graduating students will demonstrate that they have:

1. Developed a broad and deep knowledge base in psychology;

2. Acquired and can appropriately apply knowledge of psychological research skills;
3. Acquired and can appropriately apply critical thinking skills in psychology;
4. Developed competence in making appropriate applications of psychology;
5. Acquired and can appropriately apply the values of psychology;
6. Developed competence in information and technological literacy;
7. Developed competence in communication skills;
8. Acquired and can appropriately apply sociocultural and international awareness;
9. Acquired effective personal development skills;
10. Acquired knowledge and competence in career planning and development.
